Summit County Rescue Group Provides Life Saving Services

What do most Summit County residents and visitors have in common? A passion for outdoor recreation. As the county becomes busier every year, both with residents and travelers, the Summit County Rescue Group (SCRG) gets busier too. Despite everyone's best efforts to be prepared, accidents can and do happen in the backcountry and SCRG's work begins where the pavement ends.

Recycling Beverage Cartons Made Easy

"It's no secret that people struggle with recycling correctly. As responsible consumers, we find ourselves trying to do the right thing but sometimes, this leads to "wish-cycling." Unfortunately, wish-cycling can contaminate entire recycling loads that are otherwise clean. It's very important that you check local regulations where you live and any time you travel and wish to recycle or compost.

Saving Lives...One Pint at a Time!

For the second time this year, Breckenridge Grand Vacations employees, along with a few community members, stepped up to support Vitalant by donating 32 units of blood from 28 volunteers in October, including four first-time donors. And four people not only donated whole blood but also donated red cells. On average, every unit of blood can save up to three lives.
